

Sheet metal on the carpet

Von Jens Meiners

There are the most unusual niches in the automotive world. And the idea of combining cult sports cars and classic cars with carpets is something that only people in the trade would come up with. The illustrated book "Cars & Carpet", which has now been produced for the carpet experts at Object Carpet, shows what happens when automotive treasures are placed on high-quality carpeting. On 120 pages, a wide variety of vehicles are shown on matching textile floor coverings. Anyone who wants to own a copy of this magnificent book - a "significant contemporary document" according to Object Carpet - will need good connections to the company, however, as it is not freely available for sale.
